EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Richard Wydeven on January 4, 2005.

The application has been amended as follows:

In claim 7, line 11, --concepts—has been added after “corresponding to a relationship between two or more”.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The prior art fails to disclose or suggest a device or method having all of the claimed limitations. While various stimulus and response type testing methods are well known, and while various types of methods of comparing a user's response to a scoring rubric are well known, there is no suggestion of a method and device as claimed where a user is presented with devices each associated with a given concept and where the user manipulates the device such that a conceptual pattern is created and compared with a scoring rubric including a conceptual pattern.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Fleishman, von Buegner, Sutcliffe, Corder, Madonna and Sims disclose various testing methods and devices.
